

Evidence of the Bible's History

There are over 5,700 Bible manuscripts, almost all written within 25 years of the death of Christ. It would be necessary to disprove the existence and content of all of them in order to disprove the sixty-six book canon.

And yet, skeptics never question the millions of other ancient books that are agreed as genuine —though these were written as long as 1,000 years after events and subjects they cover. And often, many of these are validated by as few as ten to twenty copies —not thousands.

It takes a biblical fool to doubt the veracity of the existence of the Bible, God's Word. Even applying man's logic and accepted standards of proof demonstrate believers have no reason to doubt the Bible divinely exists as it self-testifies.
